"I'm hot . . . but I don't want to get here at 7:00 in the morning . . . I cannot believe that Johnny Lee was really here in person . . . this long Christmas vacation is great . . . he issued a real ticket; not a warning . . . I want to go back to the exemption policy; I hate these finals . . . whom are you taking to the Sweetheart Dance? . . . I hear the yearbooks are in and they are not handing them out yet . . ."

If these phrases seem familiar it is because they were said so often. From the altered heat schedule to having to take finals for the first time in five years, this school year reflected changes. The faculty started the year with several changes in personnel and duties. There was the addition of new coaches, and some changes in the counselors office. Everyone had to adjust to the semester system, which brought more grammar study. Our school added on-campus suspension and tardies took on a "heated" emphasis. Musical tastes shifted from Disco to Country and Western. A new parking lot and a new set of parking directions were adjustments some students never made. Pep rallies were revamped to give cheerleaders and skit performers more room. Basketball had an active season with some new opponents. Every one tried to have an "I Compete For The Coyotes" button before the year was over. Freshmen soon let their rivalries between Barwise and Zundy die and united as one compatible group. Sophomores enjoyed being able to call someone else freshman. Juniors took their first step as upperclassmen when they ordered their senior rings. Seniors, as always, got a great deal of enjoyment of being on the top of the heap and just being seniors. These transitions have altered us to some extent, but basically we are four unique groups which have blended together to make up the proud student body of the THE high school.

Enjoying herself and staying active characterize Melinda Huff.

Members of the band plan their own socials, which include several dances each year.

Mr. and Miss Howdy highlight the annual assembly. Henry Ozuna and Cathye Bogan hold the honor this year.

Keeping the tradition of victory apples going, a different organization is in charge of passing them out to the football team each pep rally.

A highly sought and competitive honor is that of being chosen cheerleader. Tryouts have changed somewhat this year to emphasize individual ability.

Spirited enthusiasm shown at Coyote pep rallies

"Two bits, four bits, six bits a dollar, all for the Coyotes stand up and holler!" What pep rally would be complete without this cheer? This year the pep rallies took on a different look. The band was moved up into the stands and the students were shifted to different sections. This change gave the cheerleaders, twirlers, Lone Stars, and skits more room to perform. Preparation for the pep rallies begins early in the week. The cheerleaders and members of Victory club, and Pride of '81 make posters and decorate the gym the day before. Then the final product is a well rounded pep rally.

Assembly Ends on Good Note

Howdy Week is a full week of western atmosphere held in October. The students and teachers donned their western wear the entire week. The Howdy finalists, chosen a few weeks before, worked hard sharpening their square dancing skills. Meanwhile other students perfected various acts for the Howdy assembly. This year surprise guest singer, Johnny Lee, performed his hit song, "Lookin' for Love." The newly crowned Mr. and Miss Howdy were Henry Ozuna and Cathye Bogan. The finale was the Howdy dance.

Students Take Pleasure

The long-awaited, ever present weekend is anticipated by almost everyone. The joys of being able to stay out late on Friday nights and sleep in on Saturdays is pleasing to students after a hard week of school. Students enjoy doing various activities such as going to the movies, cruising Kemp and going out on dates. Also for those students over 18, there are local country and western clubs where western dancing has become the latest craze. No matter how the students spend their weekend they all agree, it is definitely too short.

Activities lead to

The year of the Coyote finally came. Spirits were high as we went into our eighth season without a victory. Preparations for the game included hall decorations, a Raider Roast at Coyote Canyon, and gym decorations for which there was a large turnout. The victory breakfast was held at different homes for each class.

Following the breakfast, students caravanned behind the band to school. Throughout the day, the halls echoed with jingles from mums and whistles encouraging "BEAT RIDER." The pep rally had a large turnout of students and parents which filled the gym. The pep rally was highlighted by the annual pie in the face contest is sponsored by FTA and this year there was a tie. The winners (or losers) were Coach Rodney Bagley and Coach Danny Palmer. The climax of the week was the crosstown rivalry game.

Even though the weather was miserable, the fans were still there to back the pack. The players did not let them down with a 20-6 victory.

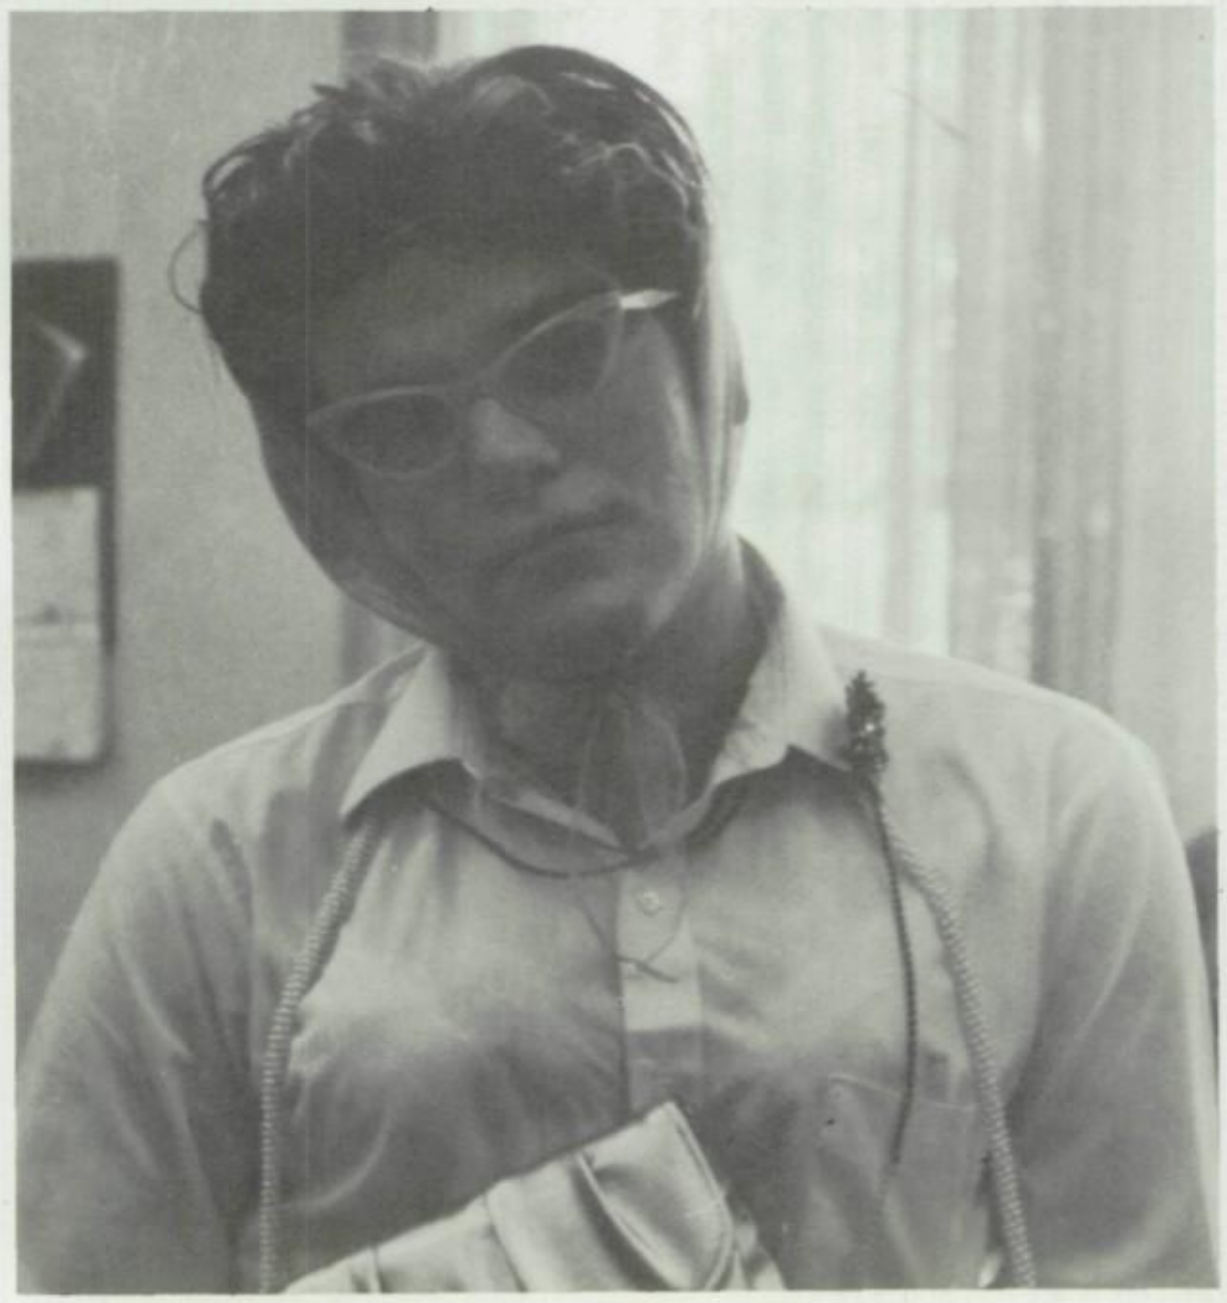
50's Beat goes on

"When the clock strikes two, three and four, if the band slows down we'll yell for more," was a familiar tune in everyone's head on 50's Day. The fads of 50's were illustrated by the number of students who dressed up. The styles varied from leather jackets, white tee shirts, rolled up straight legged jeans, slicked back hair to ponytails, bobbie socks, and poodle skirts. The 50's day was a great success with Christy Allen and John Thomas chosen as best dressed.



1. Alison Nutt, Nann Setzler, Lysle Waggoner, and Lee Anderson model their 50's fashions. 2. Laura Karrenbrock, Homecoming queen?! 3. Dan Whitehead, the nerd! 4. J.W. Oliver, isn't she sweet? 5. School not always full time job

Many of the students at WFHS hold part time jobs to compete with the increasing cost of living.

These jobs vary from selling clothes to sacking groceries. The money from these jobs helps to pay for cars, gas, and weekend activities. Even though students have little time, they still find time to work

Students Enjoy Concerts

Recently Wichita Falls has been receiving more music concerts than usual. The concerts are mainly leaning towards country although there are still rock-n-roll shows being performed. Among the country stars we have had Eddie Rabbitt, Jon Conlee and Willie Nelson. Eddie Rabbitt sang songs like "Two Dollars in the Juke Box" and "Every Which Way But Loose" plus other songs from his greatest hits album. Jon Conlee did popular songs off his "Rose Colored Glasses" album and sang a few songs from his new album "Friday Night Blues." The latest singer has been Willie Nelson singing so many of his country chartbusters. Although the rock-n-roll shows are not as popular as the country shows, we have had great performances from Toto and Air Supply.

Sweetheart dance

The Sweetheart Dance is an annual tradition at Old High. The dance is sponsored by the Victory Club. A formal presentation of the Beauties, Favorites, and Finalists is given to honor these students. This year's dance was held at the Women's Forum and the music was provided by Mad Martin. The music varied from country, rock and roll, and of course a little romantic touch. No matter what music was played, everyone had a great time and danced the night away.

Draft reinstated!

These two pages are dedicated to the national events which occurred in the 1980-81 school year. Many of these incidents affected us directly, as when the gas prices went up and the United States saw a new president, Ronald Reagan, take office. The biggest news of this year occurred when the hostages were set free from Iran after 444 days of captivity. The release of these hostages sent a great wave of patriotism across the continent. Parades, ceremonies, and various events were held to honor these Americans. Also while Carter was still in office, he reinstated the draft. This decision sent many of our students out to register after their eighteenth birthday. In the music scene this year, former Beatle, John Lennon, was tragically shot to death. Lennon was killed on December 9, 1980, outside his apartment in New York. Among the sports events, the Oakland Raiders captured the Super Bowl, and the Houston Oilers head coach, Bum Phillips, was fired. These factors, the economy, and many other news happenings help make the year 1980-81 a year of change.

2. Gas reaching all time high.
3. Scott Meares and David Prothro took to riding a motorcycle instead of paying the high prices of gas.

Howdy Pard'ner

With changes occuring everyday, many students look forward to some of the yearly Coyote traditions. This year, 15 people in particular were happy to see the annual Mr. and Miss Howdy, which have been a part of WFHS for the past 28 years. These people were the ones who were nominated as Howdy Finalists.

In this event, the students nominated their choice of the most popular boy and girl in school. From these nominees, the finalists were chosen. These finalists then took part in the Howdy Assembly, performing square dances, after which Mr. and Miss Howdy were named and hatted.

Mr. and Miss Howdy

Cathye Bogan, known as a friendly and outgoing person, has been an active one, too. She was in both of the City Federated Girl's Clubs. She received honors in High School which include Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior class vice-president. Cathye has been active in the youth group at her church, active in Lonestars and working as a dental assistant for Dr. Horace Boston. Because of Cathye's outgoing personality and friendly smile, she deserved the honor of being named Miss Howdy, 1980.

Henry Ozuna has been active in football since his Freshman year, two of which he has been the kicker for the varsity team. The past two years Henry has been a Howdy nominee. Last summer he spent his time working for Brodie Buick where he was a mechanic and gained experience with cars. In his spare time Henry enjoys fishing. After completing high school, he plans on joining the Navy following his grandfather's, and father's footsteps. He would like to see the world especially France and Italy. Henry with his friendly personality and enthusiasm, earned his title as Mr. Howdy, 1980.

Cheerleader's life hectic

This year was a year of change for the girls who made up the cheerleading squad. Last year the girls had to tryout individually before the student body. Then the new cheerleaders attended a cheerleading camp at East Texas State University. At camp, they were awarded five ribbons and a spirit stick.

"Life as a cheerleader can be described in one word non-stop!" commented Julie Bridgman. During the summer, they spent many hours learning and creating new pyramids, cheers and gymnastic skills. A cheerleader's busy schedule includes cheerleading practices, planning and performing pep rallies and cheering at the Pup, Rowdie and Varsity basketball games. In addition to all of this, the girls buy victory cakes, organize victory breakfasts and gym decorations.

1980-1981 Cheerleaders include Pam Tate, Kim Thomas, Susan Long, Anke Baeumber, Martha Mitchell, Brenda Jones, Laurie Palma, and Julie Bridgman.

Students achieve honors

National Honor Society is chosen every spring. A primary activity for the group is the annual faculty baseball game in the spring and the pizza party for the new members. The WFHS joins with the members of Rider and Hirshi for a Christmas party. The teachers elect the students on the basis of leadership, service, and character which are essential for membership to NHS. The members are chosen based upon ¾ on these qualities and ¼ of class ratings.

The Seniors come from a list of non-current members who maintain a 3.30 or better GPA. Approximately 15% of the graduating class is a member of NHS. The juniors are taken from a list whose GPA are 3.65 or better. The officers for this year are Sharon Hoffman, President; Laurie Lehman, vice-President; and Penney Tate, Secretary-Treasurer.

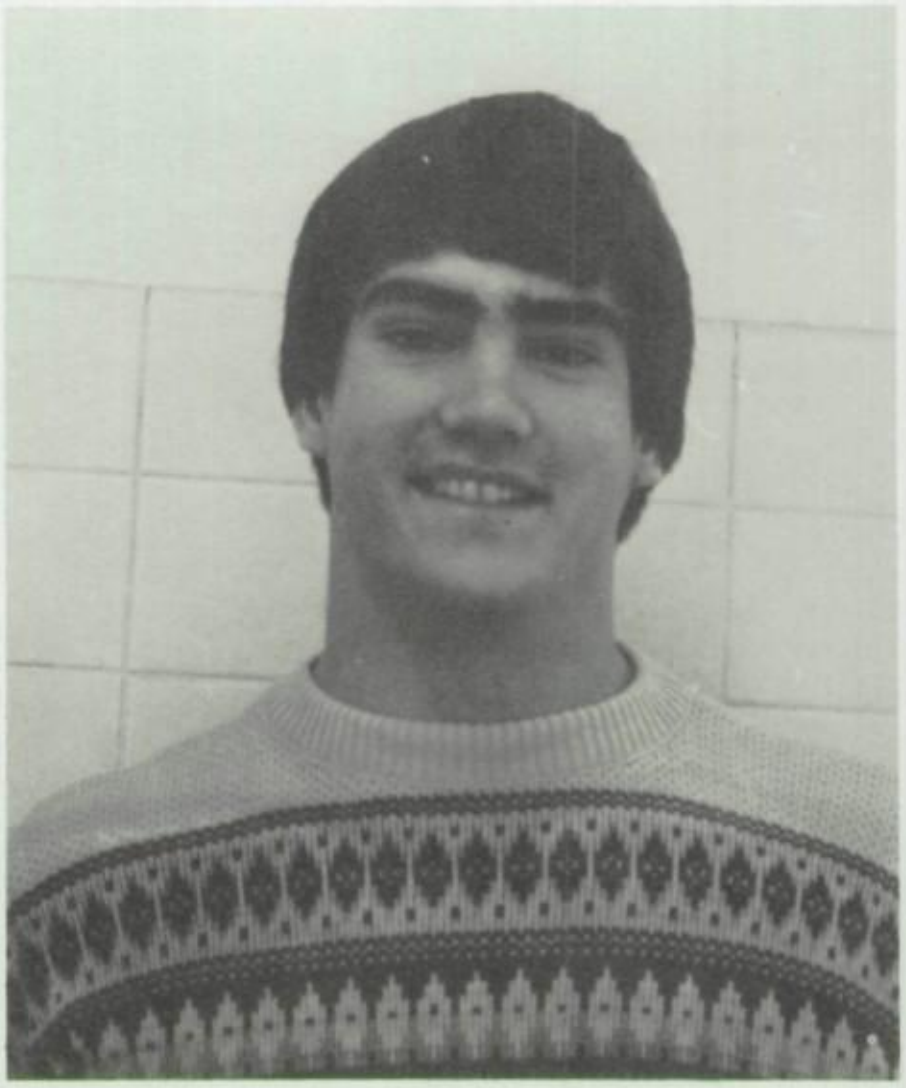
Students receive talent recognition

Baush and Lomb Science Award: Laurie Lehmann

DAR Good Citizen Award: Jack Holmes



During the school year, some students win awards and contests which get little recognition. The Bausch and Lomb Science Award is given to the senior who has most greatly displayed scientific ability during his four years at Wichita Falls High School. This year's winner was Laurie Lehmann. The Daughters of American Revolution annually honor a student who shows citizenship and patriotism. Jack Holmes was the recipient of this award. This year we had three students that scored high enough on the PSAT to become National Merit Semi-Finalists. They are Debbie Burks, David Larson, and John Speed. Congratulations are extended to these five students on receiving these awards.

Those making the top chairs in the region organization compose the All-Area group and become the All-State candidates. The state musicians are then selected and attain the highest honor that a Texas high school musician can receive.

Sports this year went through a variety of changes. Football, tennis, girls basketball picked up new coaches for the 1980-81 season and most of the teams received new equipment. New districts were picked up in all sports. Denison and Sherman were the two new teams added to our division while R.L. Turner and Newman Smith were dropped. All the Coyote sports were predicted to do well in their respected sports, and most of them did come through in a winning tradition.

Girls have inspiring year

Teri Sears, Ginger Walters, and Laurie Thompson take time out from practice to have their picture made.

The 1980 girls track team was a small and young team. Although the girls did not win any meets, they won in several individual events. Janice Hennan placed second in the shotput in regional. Coaches were Moody Hill and Grace Randolph. Although the girls were underclassmen, and most of them unexperienced, they had alot of fun trying and many of them will be returning next year.

The relay team for 1980 was Teresa Griffin, Tonya Pool, Mary Beatty, and Laurie Thompson.

Team needs more than just players

Often the stamina exhibited by a football squad depends on the program outlined by the coaching staff. Under the guidance of new head coach Danny Palmer, the Coyotes worked out with weights and trained more often. Palmer came to Wichita Falls from Pampa. Palmer became the tenth football coach in the history of the Coyotes.

Palmer assembled a group of assistant coaches to condition and improve the team. Varsity coaches were Rodney Bagley, defensive coordinator; Joe Bob Tyler, offensive line; Pat Tusa, defensive secondary; Don Phillips, defensive line, and Ronnie Faulkner, receiver.

Coyote trainers and managers work closely with coachers and team members to keep the players healthy. Four year trainer Brad Bassett taped ankles and wrists, and gave ice and whirlpool treatments. He worked closely with the team physician Dr. Jerry Alexander. Managers Joey Chapa, Tony Moffitt, Allen Moore and Mike Powers had to keep the equipment in order.

All of these people pulled together to give the Pack the placement of second in District 6-5A with a 5-5 record.

Team adjusts to different district

The Coyote football team also underwent several changes this year. They were placed in a new district with Denison and Sherman. With the addition of another A, the Pack went into District 6-AAAAA.

During the summer the Pack went through various weight programs. The equipment was purchased last year to get everyone into better shape and to lessen the number of injuries. Every year the Coyotes start their training in the last part of the summer. Through this time they have what is known as two-a-day practices which means workouts in the morning and then coming back to Coyote Canyon for another workout in the late afternoon.

The players of the week were Lubbock Coronado—Antohny Nash; Abilene Cooper—Renneth Reed; Lawton—Henry Ozuna; Vernon—Tony Sterling; Hirschi—Tom Carr; Lewisville—Mitch O'Neil; Denton—Billy Rainwater; Dennison—Jack Holmes; Sherman—Brian Goodner; and Rider—Rusty Ducharme. These players were picked by the coaches on their outstanding performances in the game that week.

The 5-5 record of the Coyotes was not impressive in itself, but most of the losses were in the fourth quarter with only seconds left in the games. The Coyotes finally got a two year revenge on Lewisville with a 13-0 victory. Coyote enthusiasm was high this year thanks to the efforts of the Pack.

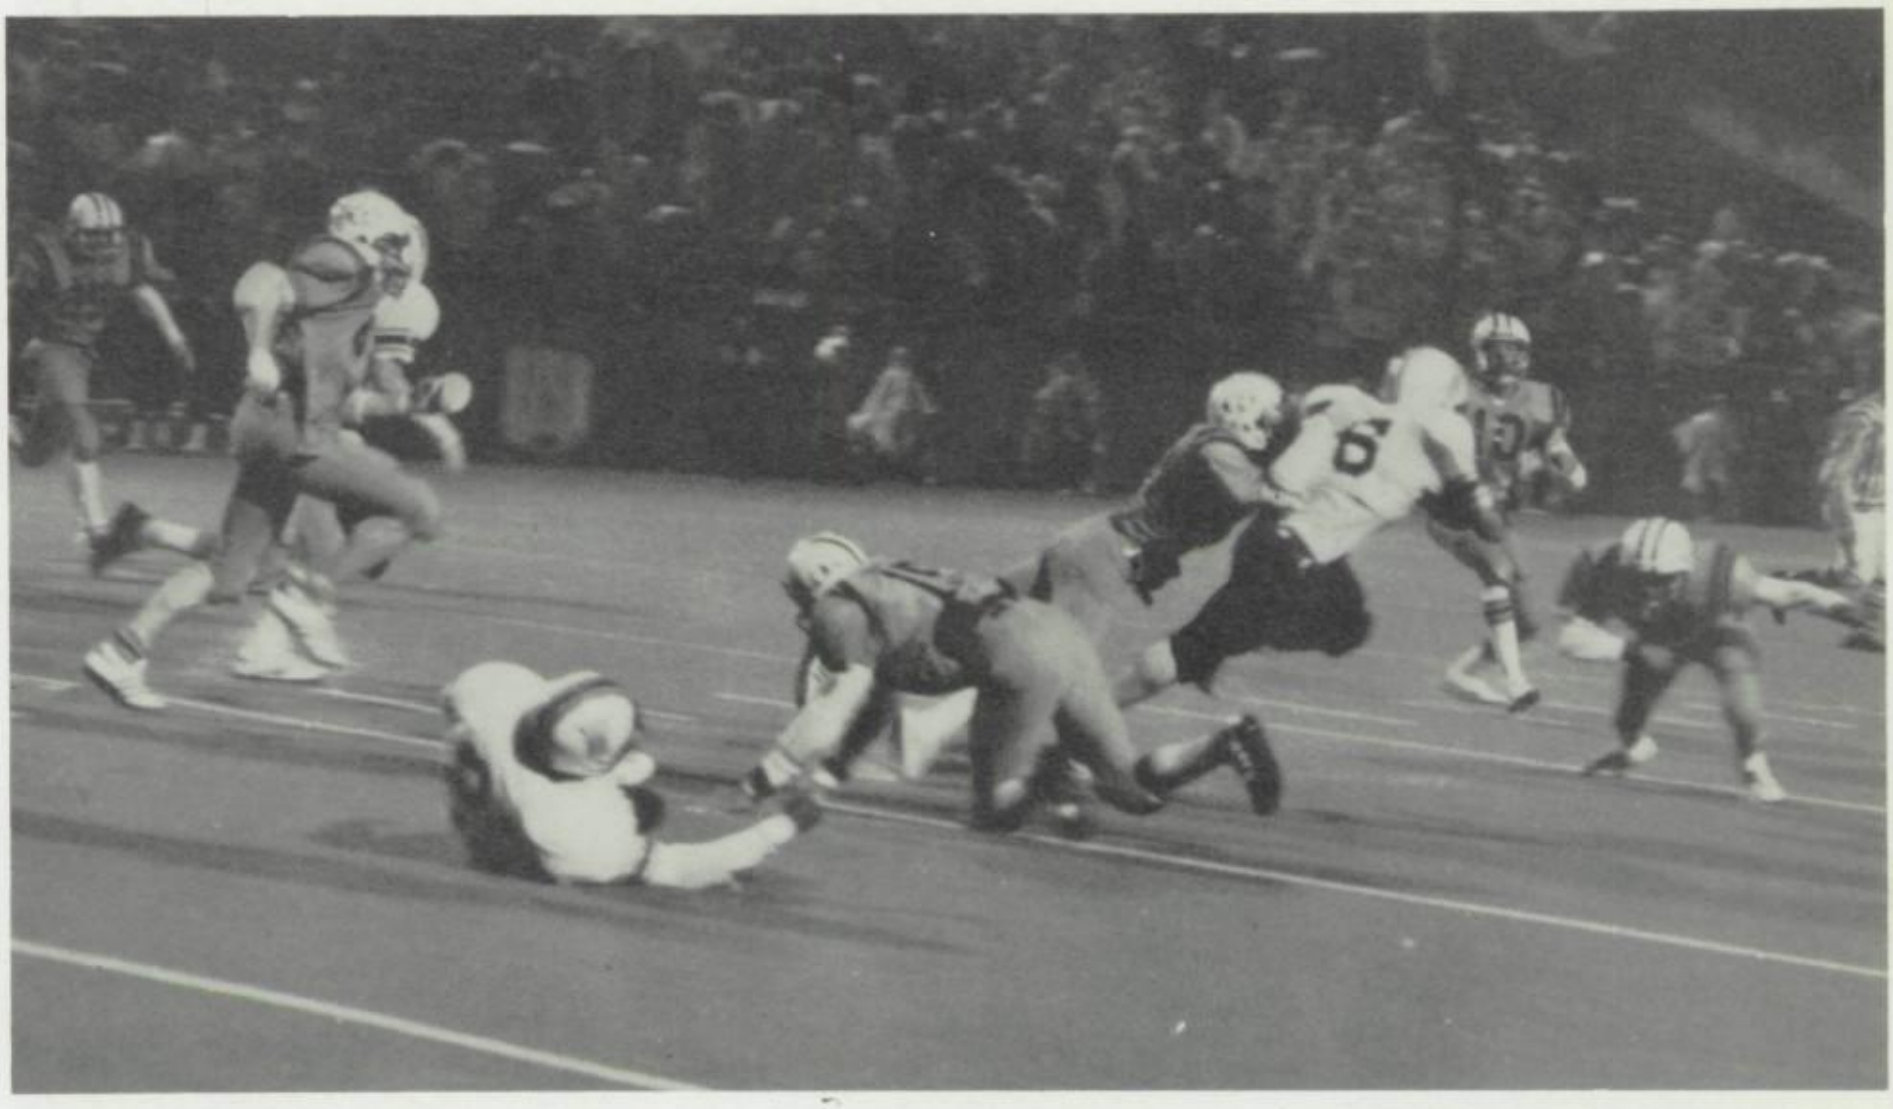
Rider bites the dust



For the first time in eight years, the Pack finally beat Rider with a bang. The final score was 20-6. Although it was a cold, rainy night, there were still many spectators out to watch the Coyotes win. The crowd was not disappointed, but did get wet. The Coyotes racked up 182 yards rushing and 60 yards passing, while holding Rider to a minus 31 yards rushing. On the first down of the Coyote's first possession, Anthony Nash ran 53 yards for a touchdown, but then Rider came back and scored a T.D. During the halftime, Coach Palmer took the team into the locker room and fired the boys up to get some more points on the board. It was fourth quarter before any more points were made when Mike Lavender passed to Finlay Woodruff for another six points.

With Henry Ozuna's extra point the Pack led 13-6. Then with only 1:21 left in the game, Billy Rainwater made the final touchdown from the three yard line. The extra point brought the final score to 20-6. The Pack was happy about the victory as were the backers.

After the season was over, Coach Palmer announced his resignation and cited health problems as the reason. The new head coach and athletic director for the upcoming year will be former assistant coach, Joe Bob Tyler.

Rowdies split city championship

Ending the 1980 season with a 3-6 record, the Rowdies tied for the city crown with Rider and Hirschi with a record of 2-2. Coaches Ronnie Faulkner and Don Phillips said that overall the kids were hard workers. They named Chris Harrell, Joey Haynie, Kelvin Humphrey, and Burt Palmer as outstanding linemen. Robby Cobb, Randy Shirley, and Rick Everett were some others. The Rowdies were strong on defense, but lacked a little practice on offense. The Coyotes can expect to have a good season in 1981.

Pups gain respect

The 1980-Pups will not be long remembered for their Win-Loss record, or for their near championship victory over Rider in the final game. The Pups will be remembered, by those close to them, for their personality as a team. These youngsters had class, which they exhibited at every outing. They had character which emerged to keep them alive when adverse conditions arose. They have the potential to be a fine Coyote football team soon. The Coaches, Coach Black, and Coach Gill, would like to thank the freshman footballers for the privilege to work with such personable young men.

Coyote swimmers work hard

The 1980-81 Coyote Swim Team spent a year full of dedication and hard work. Not only did the dedication include being at workout at 6:45 in the morning but also making a second workout in the afternoon.

This year the team stressed weight lifting as a major part of their training. The new Biokenetic Swim Bench which involved the actual stroke plus resistence improved many of the swimmers' times and strength. Along with the swim bench, the weight workout involved 15 other stations which included bench, sit ups, pullups and many other exercises. Coach Rogers thought the extra work on weights gave his swimmers a considerable advantage against other swimmers.

Coach Rogers believed that the mental attitude was just as important as the actual workouts. He stated, "It takes supreme dedication and an outstanding mental attitude to make a champion athlete, and these swimmers have made a giant step in accomplishing that goal."

J.V. looks ahead

The 1981 J.V. swim team began the season with their sights on future Varsity competition. Beginning the year with a hand full of competitors, the group has grown into a solid team with varsity potential. According to Coach Rogers "many of these swimmers will figure into the future Varsity swimming success at WFHS.

The Coyote Basketball team, under the direction of Coach Steve Middleton, finished their season with a 18-15 record. Led by Seniors Van Anderson, Randy Dowell, Anthony Mayze, Kelly Nix, and Tim Price the roundballers did well in all three tournaments in which they played. Coyotes took second in the W.F. Tournament, fourth in the Lubbock Capprock Tournament, and won consolation in the Lawton Tournament. Van Anderson made the All-Tournament Team in the Lubbock and Lawton Tournaments, and Tim Price and Anthony Mayze made the All-Tournament in the W.F. Tournament. Van Anderson was high point with an average of 18 points a game, while Anthony Mayze and Tim Price were the leading rebounders. Coach Middleton said that it was a relatively young team, but all the players put forth everything they had. A lack of size was a factor in not having as a respectable season as last year, but most of the games were close.

Girls varsity makes progress

The varsity girls basketball team showed much improvement teamwork and enthusiasm this past season. They took six victories and made many other opponents worry. The new head Coach Grady Graves thought the effort of his girls was tremendous. There are only three seniors graduating, Terri Hill, Christy Allen and Alisia Lowder. "Experience pays off", says Coach Graves," "through experience earned."

J.V. Pulls Together

The JV team has always been close like a family. After the season began there were a few Freshman girls moved up to the JV team. There were some close games being beaten by Lewisville by 3 points and Rider by 1 point. Their big victory was their first district game beating Denison by 20 points. The girls have gained experience this year and will be helpful in the 1981-1982 season.

Freshman play to win

1980-1981 freshman girls basketball played 12 games and ended with a record of 6-6. This was the best year WFHS has had in girls basketball. The freshman won the first trophy ever won in Girls basketball; it was the consolation trophy in the Hirschi Tournament. Also, this year Stephanie Middleton set a school record; scoring 33 points against Rider. These girls worked hard and played hard. Team spirit, school representation, morale respect, and leadership was displayed of these young ladies.

Golfers tee off

With one of the most talented teams in recent years, the Coyote Golf had a notably productive season. As well as competing in tournaments, several players such as Scott Meares and David Prothro competed out of state and gained considerable experience.

Depending on the weather, the team played on area courses around the city and hit practice balls on Wednesdays. Although the team had a tough schedule they placed well in most all of their tournaments. Much of the team's success was attributed to players such as David Bomer, Melvin Riddle, Steve McLain, Scott Meares, and David Prothro. Coach Scott Haynie stated, "I'm pleased with the tremendous amount of progress our team has made this year."

New weight-lifting and swimming programs helped to bring on a more conditioned 1980-81 tennis team for the spring. Led by new head coach Manuel San Miguel, the team captured first place at the Regional Team Tournament earlier in the year. This victory enabled the team to play in the State Team Tournament a few weeks later. The team competed in more duals and tournaments this year than in the past. With this added experience, the Coyotes should once again be among the top opponents in District and Regional play.

JV looks promising

With expectations of making the varsity, the junior varsity tennis teams keep on playing. Coach Manuel San Miguel keeps the teams as conditioned as the varsity with running drills. They played duals against other local varsity school teams and had the same winning tradition as the varsity. These players should be ready to take the Senior players' places next year.

With the emphasis on "Compete don't Complain", the clubs took on a more spirited outlook. Members of each organization strived to make theirs the very best.

Along with the new motto, other changes were made in the organizations. Club period began at the end of first period to make a more regular attendance. Clubs also had a chance to have their insignia painted and framed by former student Jay Spurlock. Each one was then hung on the north wall of the cafetorium. This activity was sponsored by Key Club. Organizations proved themselves worthwhile for all those who participated and to those who benefitted from the various community service projects.

"Dare to Influence"

With this motto, Key Club this year grew to be one of the most outstanding groups on campus. The club consists of a select group of sophomore, junior, and senior male students. Its purpose is to serve the community, develop leaders, and citizenship. They have various service projects throughout the year. During the summer they helped the teachers move into their rooms at school. At Halloween members sold pumpkins to benefit Shane Landry, a Rider football player paralyzed in a scrimmage game. The club also participated in the Kiwanis Club annual Pancake Feed in January. They also carry the PRIDE FLAG at the football games. Mr. Eddie Marion and Mr. Adrion Kolter sponsored the club for the first time this year.

Committee represents student body

The WFHS Student Council is composed of the officers from all classes. Five officers are elected. Each year, this group of students works with the faculty and administration to sponsor sock hops, the Howdy Dance, and student orientation. More importantly, the council represents the student body to the community.

This year, the students attended a city meeting concerning the problems of Kemp Street where the police, local businessmen, educators, and community leaders were present. They also attended an alcohol abuse meeting and a District Convention in February. Finally, the committee had several meetings of their own which concerned matters of WFHS. The faculty sponsors are Mrs. Carole Davis, and Ms. Ruth Ann Huffhines.

Fishermen hope for big catch

The Bass Club gives students an opportunity to put their interest in fishing to work. Goals of the club are to gain experience in the sport, and promote sportsmanship. Members enjoyed camping and fishing trips to nearby lakes. This growing organization was established five years ago and maintains the motto, Black Bass. Making a run through sign and selling ornaments at Christmas were two of their projects this year. Mr. Tommy Thorton, Mr. Eric Burns and Mr. Ron Kuykendall are sponsors for this group of fishermen.

Rodeo Club rides again

Urban Cowboy syndrome has hit WFHS and is evident in the overwhelming membership of the Rodeo Club. Rodeo Club returned to our organizations with spirit and enthusiasm unprecedented. Out of the 105 members, Billy Castle, Eric Jones, and Jay Proffitt are four year members. These three, plus several others, participated in area rodeos and buckouts. Members also sponsored two country and western dances. The first for club members only, but the second was in the spring and was school wide. Mr. McWhorter, club sponsor, seemed to be pleased with the turnout and interest shown by all the students. This year's club proved itself worthwhile, and established a strong foundation its successors in years to come.

The International Thespian Society is an organization that promotes and participates in school theatrical activities. This year the aspiring young actors produced four plays. "Love Errant" was enacted especially for the seniors. Children from the area elementary schools came to see, "The Golden Goose". The club's major production was "Time Out for Ginger", and the senior play, in which any senior was eligible to try out, was "Sally and Sam". Along with producing plays, the Thespians competed in many tournaments and UIL contests. The group traveled to Highland Park, L.D. Bell, Hirschi, Midwestern State University, Trinity University, West Texas State University, and Rider High where they took home the team championship. Rarities Receive Recognition

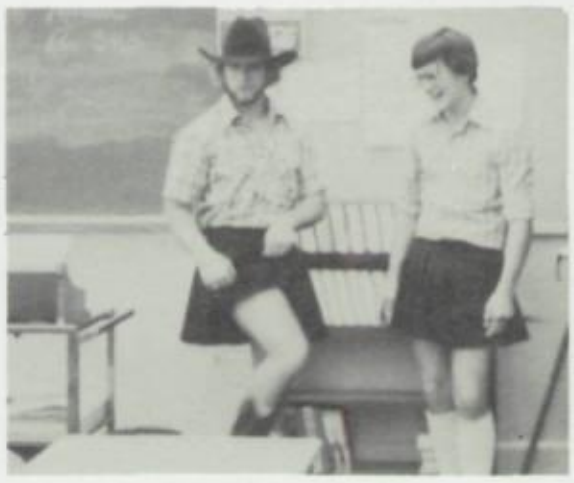
There are several clubs in and out of school that did not receive proper recognition. These two pages are dedicated to the non-school-sponsored groups which play an important part in the lives of the participants. Although, according to Mrs. Davis's standards, these new groups were not active enough to be put on the club list or have their respective made in the mornings, they strive to have the utmost standards and priorities. We regret not being able to give each organization an individual page, because members are so faithful to their respective club. With growing interest this year, possibly next year these organizations can become an official part of school.

Bench Bunch—Benches throughout the school have become a popular hangout for students. Whether you are in one of the student centers or in one of the halls, you can always see Bench Bunch members gathered together. We are unable to list all participants because membership is constantly changing.

CAN YOU COUNT THE POLOS?

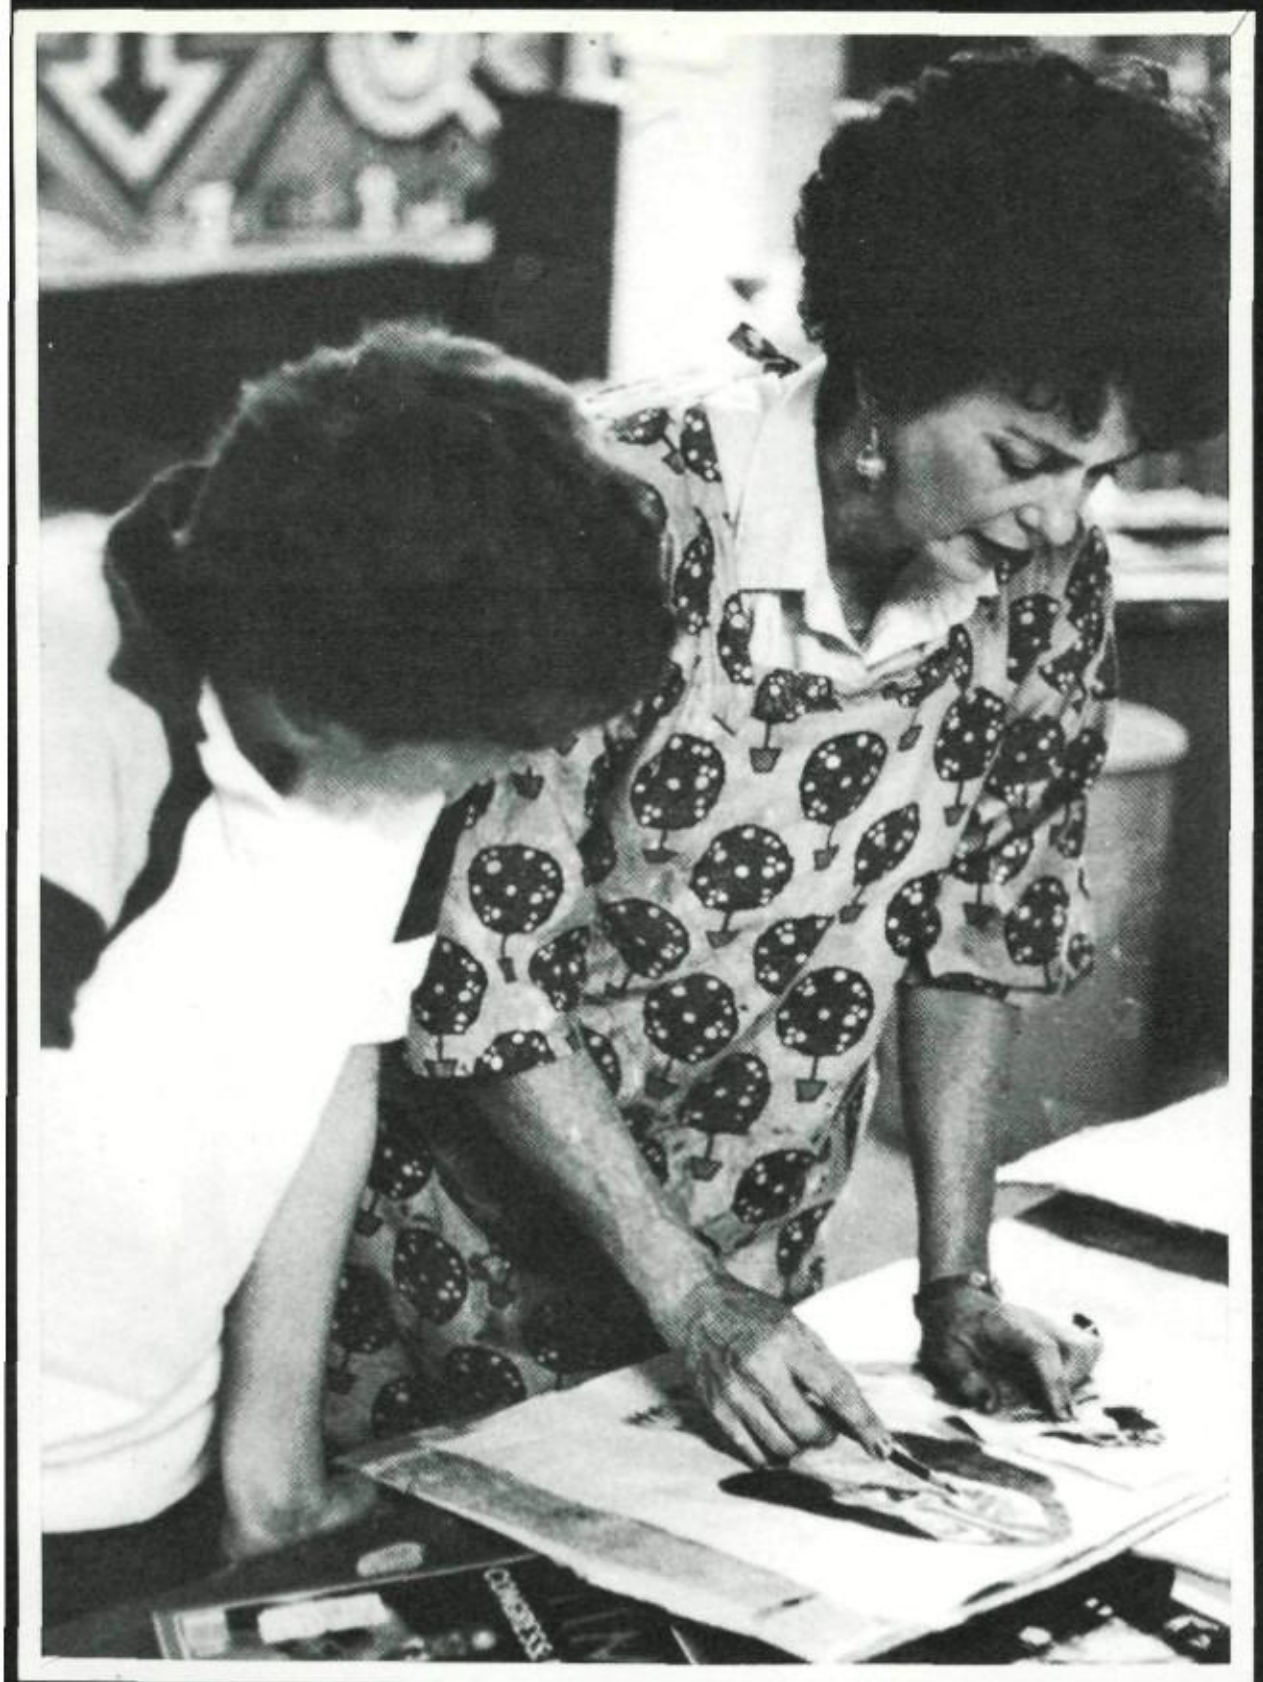
The Prepsters: Row 1: Missy, Kip, Jock, Buffy, and Bink. Row 2: Tiffy, Bitsy, Kiffy, Kiki, Skip, and Muffy. Club Colors: Pink and Green.



MER (Men for Equal Rights)—Being the bright spot of our new clubs, MER had a most exciting membership. Participants were limited to only those males who had attired clothing of the opposite sex. Charter members include Joe Huff, top and above center; Jimmy Copelin and Glen Billing, above; John Reedy, J.W. Oliver, and those select few who performed at pep rallies.

KEMP CLUB—The Kemp Club is one of the largest groups represented. Due to circumstances beyond control, however, we are unable to individually list all participants. Kemp Club members are continuously dedicated both day and night. Some of the requirements for being in the organization are: (1) keep a running score of who gets the most honks, and (2) must make at least seven rounds on Kemp on week nights and at least fifteen rounds on Friday and Saturday nights. Some of the sponsors which members frequently show their appreciation to are McDonalds and Taco Burrito.

OCS Team—James Moore, pictured left, is the honorary captain for the newly organized On Campus Suspension Team. Under the supervision of Joe Bob Tyler and Jack Vantrease, Moore and other fellow members find the OCS Team very interesting. In a recent interview, Moore stated that lunch period was the most memorable of his experiences.



The class and faculty section is a most important section because it contains all of the special people in school—YOU. The steps going from a freshman to a big time senior are difficult. Teachers show us how to give our futures bright hopes. Features that include the students in outstanding activities are a new aspect.

Scott Gaynor and Mihn Doan find that biology can be interesting.

Kelvin Ford sharpens his skills in shop class.

Mrs. Ziesenheim shows her student how it is done.

Senior Favorites

Jack Holmes and Cathye Bogan

Jack is a sporty guy. He has played football for four years, with three of those years on varsity. As a freshman, he was on the basketball team. Jack is interested in all sports. He is also involved in the school clubs; NHS, FCA, and Bass Club. This year Jack received honors such as senior favorite and nomination for Mr. Howdy. (pictured above).

Honors and other awards have been given to Cathye throughout her four years of high school. Every year she was chosen as a beauty and favorite in her class. Cathye received the honor of being Miss Howdy this year. She has also been a member of the Lone Stars for four years. (pictured above).

Henry Ozuna and Carol Dillard

Henry has always been a favorite personality among his classmates. His senior year, Henry was chosen as Mr. Howdy. Hunting, playing rugby and football are some of his favorite pastimes. On the Coyote football team. Henry played the positions of kicker and linebacker. In November, the honor of being a member of the second team in district was given to him. (pictured below).

Carol was involved in the studies and activities of the school. As a senior she was honored as a Howdy nominee. To be chosen as a favorite among her classmates meant being involved in school and being friendly to her peers. Carol is also involved in team sports and clubs in school. Out of school, dancing, running and riding her horse keeps her fit. (pictured below).

Speed lives up to his name

John Speed is a true leader of the Pack! He deserves this recognition because to be a leader one must be special and successful. These two words describes John well. He has been successful through the honors he has won for himself and for our school. He is a two year member of National Honor Society, a National Merit Semi-Finalist, a two year Honor Student, Who's Who Among American High School Students, and a recipient of the Texas A&M Presidents Endowed Scholarship. As a member of the acapella choir for a year, accompanist for the Old High Singers and a four year member and president of Orchestra, John shows his interest and talent for music. He is the president of the Key club and member of Mu Alpha Theta. The First Baptist Church plays an active role in John's life. John Speed leads the pack to success in many activities.

College stays on the mind

College life is just around the corner for some seniors. Whether it is a Business, Junior or a Four Year College, it is a new experience for the high school graduate. The first step in preparing for college is to take an academic test such as ACT and SAT. Next is filling out application, after application, after application! The last step is waiting for the results of acceptance. Jay Hardin prepared for college by attending the annual College Night in December.

Active Anthony

Anthony Nash takes time out to participate in the annual Howdy assembly. Anthony has made the most out of this year by playing outstanding in football. He was also nominated for Mr. Howdy. Anthony shows his talent in music as he plays the drum.

BENCH POPULAR SEAT

The bench in the halls of the second floor is usually occupied by seniors. This has been a tradition for several years. Even though it is not official, everyone knows that this area is dominated by "Seniors Only." Susan Borman, a junior is trying to get information on how to reserve a seat for next year from Kevin Key, Anjela Hickey, and Lori Forson.

ACTIONS REFLECTED

"Sometimes you feel like a nut; sometimes you don't." Seniors have their serious moments along with their fun times. Joe Huff seems in deep thought while Mark Shaw flashes a peace sign. The different actions reflect the different feelings a student undergoes at school.

Finalists Chosen By Juniors

Jim Bridgman and Donna Perez were the junior favorite finalists. Jim has been a member of the Coyote swim team for three years and a former member of the golf team. He is a member of press club, FCA, Key club, and annual staff. Jim was a Freshman favorite and a Sophomore favorite finalist. His freshman year he was class president.

Donna Perez has been a member of the Lone Stars for three years, and honor girl her sophomore year. She has been a favorite finalist for three years and her sophomore year she was selected as beauty. Her freshman and junior years she was a beauty finalist. She is a member of the Spanish club and holds the office of vice president. This year Donna was chosen as Fiesta Queen for the 53rd "Celebration 80."

Senior Rings

Juniors Julie Harlass and Nancy Lancaster are proudly comparing their own special Senior rings. This means Senior year is just around the corner.

Senior rings come in many different styles including stones, cuts, and special designs on the side. This design reflects each one's special interest such as clubs, sports, honors, or maybe Wichita Falls High School's mascot, the howling coyote of the plains of Texas. Senior rings are ordered early in the Junior year and are usually received around Christmas. Excitement abounds on that special day.

Of course, sometimes the love bug bites and the Senior ring is given to that special one and only to wear around the neck or taped to fit a dainty finger.

The Senior ring is worn with the pride of being a Wichita Falls High School Senior.

Carol Square, like most teenage girls, is interested in fashion. She likes to read popular magazines such as EBONY and ESSENCE. Most girls wonder about being a fashion model. Carol doesn't have to wonder—she is a model.

Her story began last year when Carol was approached by a modeling scout. When the scout found out that Carol was not a model, he quickly signed her up.

Although she has never taken a modeling course, Carol has a natural grace and style. Her mother was a model and has offered some advice.

Carol has modeled at local clubs and modeling shows. She has also appeared on television for a news segment on fashions.

In her spare time, Carol plays tennis. Her advice for up and coming girls, "Don't be afraid to have a good time. Modeling is hard work, but it also has been one of the happiest times of my life."

Artist shows talent

Wichita Falls High School is fortunate to have the talented Tawnya Reardon for a student. She is already an outstanding artist. Tawnya uses various mediums to express her art. Mrs. Anthony's Humanities class was priviledged to have her bring some sketches and watercolors to class. Mrs. Zeisenheim, Tawnya's art teacher, is understandably proud of her student. A busy gal, Tawnya takes time out to rest and check her school activity calendar. She doesn't want to miss out on a single thing.

Sleeping

A common way to pass the time of day is to catch a few winks on top of the books on top of the desk. Was it a big night, boring class or just plain tired that made Teresa Griffin and Jim Monkreas yield to temptation? They know good and well there is no sleeping allowed in class.

SENIORS '82

Urban cowboys have come to Wichita Falls and THE High School. Though this was taken during Howdy Week, western dress and kicker dancing seems to be in. There was a Howdy dance, but other times western in dancing prevailed. The cowboy influence was reflected in the dress, fashion boots, pick-up trucks, bumper stickers and of course music. Last year's disco moved over quickly to the CW craze.

There's a victory proud and true,

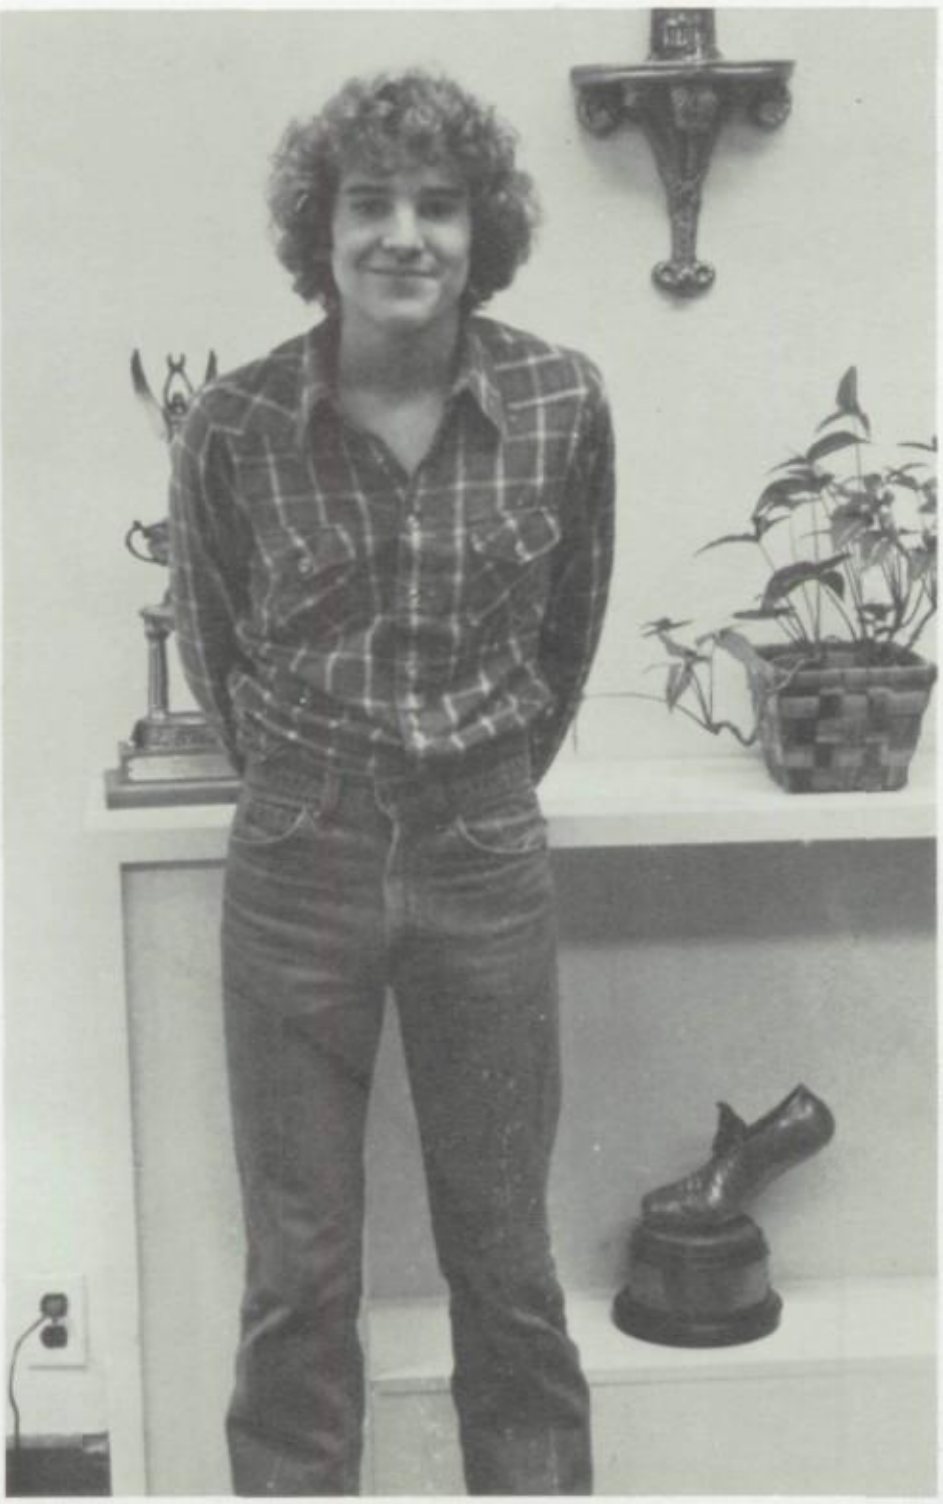
Favorites enjoy sports



Mark Moran

Mark's favorite class is drama and he had a role in the children's play, "The Golden Goose" this fall. He is a member in Latin Club and Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

As a Coyote swimmer he works out before and after school. At home Mark enjoys being with his dog, Dexter and practicing the saxophone. During school breaks in the winter, he snow skiis in Crested Butte. In the summer he works for his father. Mark hopes to make the most of his years at WFHS.

Cindy Engleman

Being an involved sophomore, Cindy participates in school activities. She is in victory club, press club and Latin club. Much of her summer is spent at her family cabin at Lake Possum Kingdom. There she is fond of water skiing, scuba diving and jogging.

Her favorite vacations have been trips to Mexico and the Carribean. Cindy is known to her classmates by her exuberance.

Coyote Community

Could J.W. Oliver one day be known with the likes of Walter Cronkrite? And could Chad Oman be a host of the Johnny Carson show? If so, their start could be traced back to the experience they received in Mrs. Brandys Zolnerwich's Basic Radio and TV Production class.

The show produced by the class is entitled "Coyote Community". The crew turns out a finished product every two weeks. Coyote Community is made up of campus news and spot features each time. The length varies between 15 to 25 minutes. Mrs. Zolnerowich commented that although the course was originally designed to just make the students aware of TV communication, the chance came and the class was involved in a real production. They not only prepare all the mate-

Some of the features which they taped were articles on various school sports events, and stories on Kemp. The class received some unexpected recognition when Channel Six News borrowed some of their footage on the Howdy Assembly for their feature on Johnny Lee. The SMILE Program, which was a campaign for alcohol prevention, was also covered in one of the classes programs. One feature special to the WFHS students was the article on the Rider-Coyote Week.

These productions would not have been possible without the assistance from Mr. Tom Ledbetter, program director of Vista Cablevision. He made it possible for the class to have their programs taped and televised.

Freshmen Favorites

Heidi Warwick

Being a fun-loving freshman, Heidi participates in tennis and other sports. She enjoys listening to country music and among her favorites are The Oak Ridge Boys, Barbra Mandrell, and T.G. Sheppard. Traveling to Nashville for the past few summers has become a hobby for Heidi. Along with being a member in FCA, Heidi sings in the girls choir and looks forward to the coming years at Old High.

James Anderson

James is a very sports minded person. He is on the Pups football team, the freshman basketball team and participates in track. Even though these sports played a major part of his freshman year, he still finds time to be the freshman class officer. James has enjoyed his first year at the high school and is ready to take the coming years in stride.

A freshman's first day most difficult

The first day at WFHS always reveals the newest member of high school, the Frosh. Lost in the multitudes of hurrying students, the freshman is not sure he can trust his sacred schedule card. "Where's room 235? How about pointing the way to the pool. What if I get lost? Now what's this about elevator tickers?"

Although these things are true, the lost and forlorn freshman will soon be settled into the swing of things and maybe, just maybe, be able to just sit back and laugh at the first few hours or sheer terror.

Freshman Favorite Finalists

Donna Massie and Phillip Woodruff are two of the freshmen finalists for favorite. Participating in beauty pageants is a hobby for Donna. She took part in the Ideal Miss Pageant. Besides the pageants, Donna is a member of FCA and is the freshman class officer.

She enjoys singing and was featured in the Howdy assembly this fall. Being sports minded, Philip was active in football and ran track. He was on the pups football and freshman track teams. Both enjoyed their first year at Old High.

Special group joins freshmen class

Moving up to high school from junior high means new adjustments. Nine particular freshmen joined clubs and athletic programs. They were the reasons for the formation of a new club. To increase communication with these nine hearing impaired students, Mr. Doug Dittfurth sponsored the Signers club so that others could master the art of sign language.

Under the direction of Mr. Dittfurth, teacher, and Mrs. Cheryl Wiliamson, interpretor, these students get assistance with classroom instruction when necessary. The unit came to WFHS from Barwise Jr. High School.

Friendships grow

What does friendship have in common with freshmen? When you get lost in a big school, who can sympathize with you because not but five minutes ago they were lost, too—A FRIEND. Many freshmen survive their first year by their friends. As they encounter problems with their teachers, schedules, and elevator tickets.

After all, who can understand a freshman better than another freshman!

"One never knows what one might find in her locker" says Jackie McGee, Juanita Thomas, and Twilla Fowler.

Students learn technical trades

The vocational centers of Carrigan and Harrell are providing qualified persons for the job market of tomorrow. Carrigan has classes for different skills, from drafting to cosmetology, from machine shop to health care, from welding to air conditioning. These classes help students learn important trades which they can use in the future for jobs or enjoyment. Harrell has in its referendrum subjects like food production, clothing production, electrical trades, building maintenance and home and family maintenance. These students, by learning with certain tools of the trade and making things that can be sold, make this program worthwhile.

RONDA RICHTER

Letter from the Editors

We started the year with high expectations for the Coyotes 81. At times we strayed from our goal, but we have tried to create a yearbook that is unique to 1981, for this has been a unique year! We worked to show all aspects, good or bad, of this year of change. We also strived to cover each person that makes up a part of the student body.

This year was a challenge to all of us on the yearbook staff. The changeover to a new publishing company, Herff Jones, brought about many new adjustments. Frank Goss, our Herff Jones representative, helped us to adapt to the new regulations. Under the leadership of Mrs. Kay Holland, the staff worked hard to turn in pages, often coming in after school and meeting for late night sessions. Mrs. Holland worked many weekends, and opened her home to us, pressing to meet deadlines. Mr. Burt Lauck also helped us greatly by understanding rescheduled pictures and interruptions in the regular schedule.

The cooperation of many people and businesses helped to ease the difficulties of producing and distributing this yearbook. We would like to thank the Midwestern State University Fine Arts center, Parker Square Bank, Highland Heights Christian Church, Corrigans Jewelers, Toys by Roy, and Daltons for the use of their facilities for picture settings. Special thanks also go to Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Moran for the use of their home, and to John Pace for allowing us to use his horse for pictures. Sue Cusenberry also helped us greatly by setting type for us at the Shopper. Individual thanks go to Wichita Falls Time and Record News for providing us with some of their photos. Werner's Photography, Metro Photo and Texcolor also helped us a great deal with our pictures. We especially appreciate the help of Mr. Ted Cantwell for printing many of our color pictures. Our most grateful thanks goes to the teachers who have allowed numerous interruption for retakes, and have been sympathetic with the staffers for classes misused during deadlines.

As this year comes to an end, we think back on this hectic year. We recall our deadline headaches and our nightmares of the dreaded "Proper Cropper". Even though we can still hear the faint echo of typewriter keys, we realize how much we have benefited this year. Being co-editors for a yearbook, such as ours, gives us a sense of accomplishment as we send out our final, but forever lasting, thank-you's to the Coyote '81 Yearbook staff. With these final layouts drawn and sent to the publishing company, we are happy in a way that there are no more negatives to be lost and pictures to be retaken. We are saddened, however, to draw this book to a close, yet we will look back in the years to come and be proud of the efforts put into this publication. We hope you enjoy reading this book as much as we have enjoyed producing it.
